

False Flash
By UP Sets Off
Premature V-J
Day Celebration

New York, Aug. 13 (AP)—Premature victory celebrations, springing from radio broadcast of an erroneous United Press news flash that Japan had accepted Allied surrender terms, swept across the United States and Canada last night and awoke briefly jubilant echoes in Central America and faraway Sydney, Australia.

The Canadian celebration was intensified by premature release of a recorded "victory" broadcast by Prime Minister Mackenzie King from Ottawa.

The United Press association (United Press) said the flash moved over one of its wires at 9:34 p. m. (EWT). The flash was ordered withheld from publication at 9:36 p. m. and was "killed" at 9:40 p. m.

Offer Reward
The UP described the flash as "of mysterious origin" and said that while it moved under a Washington deadline, it "was not transmitted by the Washington bureau of the United Press."

Hugh Baillie, United Press president, offered $5,000 reward for information leading to the identification and conviction of the person who transmitted the false flash.

The UP told its subscribers that the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the Federal Communications Commission had been asked to ascertain who had "cut in on the UP's wire to disseminate false information."

Although the long-awaited report of the war's end was killed quickly by UP and the major radio networks which had cut into their regular programs to carry it, the message: "Flash—Washington—Japan accepts surrender terms of Allies" inaugurated hilarious celebrations that lasted for an hour or more in some cities.

Hey-Day For Bedlam

A White House denial that a Japanese surrender had been received, following the UP's kill by about an hour, finally dimmed the enthusiasm of victory-greeters.

In the short interval between the false flash and its final denial, bedlam had its hey-day. The high squeak and baritone roar of ship whistles and horns sent up thunderous fanfares at New York city's East river, and in the harbors of Los Angeles, San Francisco, Portland, Me., Honolulu and San Diego. Big, good-humored crowds gathered in the city hall courtyard at Philadelphia, at Portland, Ore., Baltimore, Boston and other cities. In Washington, D. C., a cheering throng surged around the White House, but dispersed quietly upon denial of the surrender report.

A philanthropic bar-keeper in Battle Creek, Mich., had poured out $32 worth of drinks "on the house" before he learned there was no occasion for it.

"Extras" Issued
Searchlights flashed across the skies of Miami and Charleston, S. C. The Waterbury, Conn., "Democrat" and the Vancouver, B. C., "Sun" issued extras. Revelers snake-danced, exploded fireworks and built bonfires in the streets of several American cities. There were short, excited demonstrations in Havana, Cuba and Caracas, Venezuela. Theaters emptied. (Please Turn to Page 5)

SECOND CASE OF
POLIO REPORTED
IN LITTLESTOWN

Adams county's second case of infantile paralysis was placed under quarantine in Littlestown over the week-end while doctors agreed that a case listed as "auspicious" on Saturday is in the early stages of development of infantile paralysis.

The new victim is a 28-year-old mother of two children, Mrs. David Keefe, 166 1/2 West King street, Littlestown.

With both legs affected although there is not yet any real paralysis, Mrs. Keefe is under quarantine at her home. Her two sons, aged about five years and five months, respectively, are in good health.

Dr. A. C. Richards, Littlestown, the attending physician, said there is nothing in Mrs. Keefe's case history to indicate the source of infection. She first complained of feeling ill last Wednesday but did not consult a physician until Friday. Positive diagnosis was made Saturday when a spinal fluid test was made.

Doctor Richards said that physicians at the Harrisburg City hospital agree with him that Joseph Zimmerman, 16-year-old boy from Paradise Protective who had been working on a Mt. Pleasant township farm, is suffering from the early stages of polio. The farm on which he worked is under observation quarantine.

The first case of polio in the county this year was announced last Monday, almost exactly a year after the onset of the disease here in 1944. The first victim was Fred Gable, 16-year-old New Oxford high school boy who is a patient in the Hanover hospital.

With the appearance of the dread disease in this county, Dr. C. G. Crist, county medical director, warned parents to take special precautions with their children's health in the hope that general restrictions on young people will not have to be set up this year.

You Can't
Stop The Yanks

San Francisco, Aug. 12—A Mutual Broadcasting System correspondent with the Third Fleet tonight radioed this sensational story of a rescue within 50 yards of the Honshu coast:

Lt. Vernon C. Cumber, Lombard, Ill., shot down in his Corsair, was swept ashore on Honshu by heavy surf. He was forced to remain overnight.

The next morning he signaled Yank fliers attacking Honshu. Lt. Ralph Jacobs, Chicago, alighted within 50 yards of the shore in a Kingfisher but Cumber couldn't make it to the plane. Jacobs, frantically trying to throw a rope while Japanese turned both machinegun and antiaircraft fire on him, was swept overboard by a swell. His plane was carried to sea. Jacobs made it ashore.

A second Kingfisher, piloted by Lt. Almon C. Oliver, Hayward, Calif., then landed under fire, rescued both Cumber and Jacobs, and safely returned them to the fleet.

SAYS 200,000
BUSHELS WHEAT
LOST IN COUNTY

The wheat crop in Adams county has been cut by from 35 to 50 per cent by the prolonged rains of the last few weeks, said Harrison F. Snyder, county War Board chairman. On the basis of reports reaching his office, Mr. Snyder said the loss might approximate 200,000 bushels or more.

The generally favorable weather of the last week gave many farmers an opportunity to complete their harvest and estimate the loss to grain that stood in fields through three weeks of intermittent showers that turned sheaf tops green and caused some uncut grain to sprout in the heads.

Mr. Snyder estimated that as much as 90 per cent of the county's 1945 wheat crop was in the fields when the rains began and that 50 per cent of the exposed grain has been lost.

Short of Help
County farm officials agreed today that one of the chief reasons for the great loss was the shortage of farm help.

Many farmers, lacking enough help, let grain stand past usual cutting time to wait for the arrival of combines that were swamped with custom work. In many instances the rains came before the combines and made the fields so soft that when skies cleared for brief periods the grain could not be cut because of danger of the heavy combine bogging down.

Other farmers who cut their grain with their own binders lacked the help to get it under cover quickly or were waiting to thresh in the field because they lacked the hands to haul it into barns for later threshing.

In scores of wheat fields, the shocked grain sprouted and sheaves were matted together by the mass of sprouts. In other cases shocks had been thrown open to dry but more showers came and the sprouting wheat took root in the ground.

Threshing Loss
Some of the sprouted wheat is useless except for the value of the blackened straw. Wheat that is fit to thresh is showing a 50 per cent loss, farmers said, and warehousemen are refusing to accept it for storage until it is thoroughly dried.

Mr. Snyder said the amount of wheat sent to government storage in this county so far this year is only a fourth of the figure for the comparable date last year.

Chairman Snyder said that when wheat harvest appeared in this county there was every indication of a better yield than the county's 1944 average of 174 bushels per acre on the estimated 30,000 acres of wheat to be cut.

There was considerable loss of oats during the rainy season and some fields of barley were caught in the rain, Mr. Snyder reported.

County Agent M. T. Hartman said that while the corn prospects generally have benefited from the rains, low fields are showing bad effects from prolonged showers.

Helped Tomatoes
The rains helped tomato growth but also aided the blight that has caused considerable damage to the county crop. Many tomatoes are cracking and rotting on the stalks as the harvest period begins.

The light county apple crop will find the size of the fruit enlarged by the rains but the exceedingly wet weather has caused some varieties, especially the Stayman-Winesap, to split.

String beans and most other garden crops are benefiting by the wet weather, the county agent said.

2 INJURED IN CAR COLLISION

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin R. Bigham, 210 West Broadway, escaped serious injury Saturday night when their car was struck and overturned at the intersection of North Washington street and West Lincoln avenue. Both were shaken up and bruised and Mrs. Bigham suffered a painful injury to her right arm.

X-ray examinations at the Warner hospital this morning showed that Mrs. Bigham suffered a slight fracture of a bone in the right shoulder. Melvin Showers, Biglerville R. 1, operator of the other car, is to be charged today before Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore with failing to yield the right of way. The information will be laid by Borough Officer Charles W. Culp who investigated.

The officer said his investigation showed that Mrs. Bigham was driving west on Lincoln avenue and Showers was headed north on Washington street when the front of the Showers car hit the left side of the Bigham sedan, causing the Gettysburg car to turn over on its right side against a utility company pole on the northwest corner of the intersection.

Both sides of the Bigham car were damaged and the doors were jammed forcing the couple to climb out through a window. Showers and his brother, John, same address, were unhurt. One headlight was knocked off the front of their machine and there was other damage to the front part of the car.

The mishap occurred a few minutes after midnight.

Bern, Switzerland, Aug. 13 (AP)—The Swiss Undersecretary for Foreign Affairs remained in his office today awaiting Japanese Minister Shunichi Kase, who was expected momentarily, the Swiss Foreign Office said, possibly to deliver the Japanese reply to Allied surrender demands.

However, a press attache of the Japanese legation said the note, which has been awaited since last night, had not arrived in Bern.

By The Associated Press

The Tokyo radio broadcast a Domei dispatch today saying that the official text of the Allied reply to the Japanese government's message offering surrender was received today in Tokyo through the Swiss legation.

This Domei message was recorded by the Associated Press in New York from an English language wireless transmission at 9:04 a. m., Eastern War Time.

Japs Got Terms Saturday

The dispatch was sent by Domei as a bulletin. It gave no additional details.

The Allied reply to the Japanese, making it clear that Emperor Hirohito would have to be subservient to an Allied supreme commander, was dispatched to Japan Saturday at 10:30 a. m., Eastern War Time, through the Swiss legation in Washington.

By The Associated Press

The White House announced that no reply had been received at 10:45 a. m., today to Saturday's four-power dictate that Japan could keep an emperor who would take his orders from the victors' supreme commander.

Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross told a news conference "it is safe to say the war is going on" while negotiations continue.

No time limit was set by the Allies for a Japanese response, Ross said. Nor did he know, he asserted, whether there might be another ultimatum.

Emperor Given Details

Emperor Hirohito received Japanese Foreign Minister Togo at the imperial palace this morning, another enemy broadcast said, but no details as to its purpose were given.

Ross told his news conference at the White House:

"I'm sorry. I have only the negative report to make that no word has been received from Japan. It was carried by the Tokyo radio that the Allied reply had only been delivered today, Monday. If that is true, Japan has had our terms only a little over 12 hours. Perhaps that accounts for the delay."

Reds Threaten
Manchurian Japs

(By The Associated Press)
London, Aug. 13 (AP)—Tokyo reported today a vast new Soviet offensive in Manchuria which threatened to cut off possibly a half million Japanese troops in China and split an estimated 1,500,000 enemy forces on the Asiatic mainland into two massive pockets.

There was no immediate Soviet confirmation of the Tokyo report, which originated at command headquarters of the Japanese Kwangtung Army in Manchuria. A Moscow communique, fourth of the Soviet-Japanese war, told of Soviet gains of nine to 22 miles toward the central Manchurian arsenal city of Harbin.

The Soviet bulletin also announced that Russian marines invading Korea under the guns of the Soviet Pacific fleet had seized the vital ports of Rashin and Yuki on the Sea of Japan, after Adm. Ivan Yumashev's ships bombarded the bases and Red Army planes cascaded tons of explosives on the wharves and harbors in a three-day aerial pounding.

New Red Landings

(The Tokyo radio, heard by the FCC, reported sea-borne Soviet troops had begun landings on the southern part of disputed Sakhalin island. Tokyo previously has reported an invasion of the territory, known to the Japanese as Karafuto. (The Domei dispatch said the landings were under way at Anbetsu and Esutoru, the latter about 60 miles south of the border on the west coast. Ambetsu is just across the Soviet-Japanese border.)

Rashin, a great Japanese naval base just 35 miles from the Russian naval anchorage of Poset, south of Vladivostok, was the best enemy port in Korea. From Rashin and Yuki, 10 miles farther northeast, the Japanese had shipped the vast

By reconnaissance planes to locate the American force.

Turned back by heavy weather at Tokyo the carrier planes picked targets of opportunity. The Yokohama docks and submarines in pens at Shimoda to the south along Sagami bay, were hit hard.

Numerous merchant vessels and luggers were attacked. Returning pilots said the enemy offered no airborne opposition over the targets and one group flew over three fields without drawing anti-aircraft fire.

Down Torpedo Plane
Far East Air Forces squadrons also continued their daily assaults on Japan. No details were given.

A Japanese torpedo plane was shot down near the vast fleet early this morning, and Admiral Nimitz announced another had torpedoed and damaged a "major war vessel" at Okinawa Sunday night.

JAPAN'S DELAY EXASPERATING; MERCY GESTURE

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

Japan's delay in replying to the terms of capitulation has been more a matter of exasperation than anxiety for the Allies.

When the Tokyo government last Friday offered surrender if the Mikado could remain on his throne, the country already was beaten to its knees and it remained only for the Allies to administer the coup de grace. This meant that the Mikado's ministers had tossed the towel into the ring, thus admitting defeat.

So even if by some chance the war-lords decided to continue the hopeless struggle, it was clear that the mighty Allied war machine would crush Japan soon—and it would mean a terrible death for the barbaric aggressors of the Pacific.

Gestures of Mercy
As a gesture of mercy we suspended further operations with the atomic bomb pending the exchange of messages regarding surrender. And who of the militarists, either of Japan or of Germany, would have done as much, had they been on the winning side?

However, the Allies weren't foolish enough to stay their hands with other operations. There was no intention of giving the enemy a respite to pull himself together for another stand. Admiral (Bull) Halsey's huge Allied carrier fleet did withhold its mighty striking power during the night to give the Japs a chance to get their answer to the Allied capitals, but this morning at the break of dawn he launched an all-out attack against the Tokyo area. Other parts of the Japanese home islands came under attack at the same time.

Meantime the rampaging Russians continued to tear into Manchuria, and at the same time, according to the Tokyo radio, launched a new offensive from Outer Mongolia, across Inner Mongolia, toward the Yellow sea south of Manchuria. Please take a look at your maps and see what this remarkable military operation would mean—if it is confirmed.

Russian Threat
Should the Red Army drive through to the Yellow sea it would sever communications between the Japanese armies in Manchuria and those in Northern China. This would be particularly disastrous for the Japs in China proper, if the war should continue, because Manchuria is the main manufacturing center and supply base for all that area.

The Japanese have their crack Kwantung army of some 750,000 men in Manchuria, and about 650,000 more troops in Northern China proper. Ultimately, of course, both these great forces will be prisoners of war, and one wonders whether they will be put to work to repair devastation in China, just as German prisoners are to be employed in Russia and other European countries.

The Muscovites are wasting no time in their mighty assault. Their evident purpose is to overrun the Jap-held territory as quickly as possible and render the enemy fighting machine in that part of the world impotent. This is vastly important because, as I have pointed out more than once, there always has been the possibility that the Japanese war-lords might elect to continue the war on the continent even if Tokyo surrendered. Any such scheme will be short-lived, the way the Russians are tearing into the enemy.

Moscow announces that Russian Marines also have invaded Korea and captured the important ports of Rashin and Yuki, on the Sea of Japan. This operation not only is important in itself, but it would complement the Red offensive across Mongolia toward the Yellow sea, should the Japanese report of the latter operation prove to be true.

Report Robbery Of $250 Sunday

S. M. McClain, Fairfield, a veteran of five years' army service, much of it in the Chinese-India-Burma theater, had $250 of his mustering out pay and his discharge papers stolen from his room in the Hotel Gettysburg early Sunday morning while he slept. Chief of Police Glenn Guise, revealed today.

Police are searching for a woman who, McClain says, saw his hotel key and room number tab at Mitchell's restaurant and later registered at the hotel. The woman left the hotel at 3 a. m. and has not been seen since.

McClain told the chief of police that the theft forced a change in his plans to be married today. The soldier received his discharge from the army on Friday at Indian-town Gap and came to Gettysburg Saturday intending to go on to Braddock, Pa., over the week-end where he was to have been married today.

NEW ASSIGNMENT

war production of Manchuria's industries to the homeland.

The Russians, who had stormed ashore 90 miles southwest of Vladivostok, also menaced the port of Seishin, 36 miles southwest of Rashin.

Tokyo, broadcasting a communique of the Kwantung Army, said the new Soviet Manchurian drive was launched from outer Mongolia across Inner Mongolia, and aimed at the Yellow sea. Linsi, southwest Manchuria road center and air base, was reported imperilled as the Russians hammered across a mountainous caravan route from Wuchumintsin in inner Mongolia, 150 miles to the north.

22-Mile Gain

Here And There

News Collected At Random

In a report on its multi-billion dollar contribution to the war effort, the rubber manufacturing industry discloses the staggering quantities of rubber products it has channeled to the armed forces. Here are a few of the items:

Tires by the tens of millions to mount vast land, air and amphibious assaults upon enemy strongholds all over the globe. Ten million hard rubber battery cases to power our mechanized attack.

More than 150,000 pounds of rubber compound to keep each battleship afloat and in fighting trim.

Forty-five million pairs of rubber boots and shoes to keep our armies on the march, entirely apart from 77 million pairs of rubber soles and 104 million pairs of rubber heels turned out for troops alone in 1944.

More than 30,000 other different rubber products to win the war against Germany and to press home the final attack against Japan.

Airplane tire production climbed from 39,000 units in 1939 to 1,417,000 in 1944; military truck and bus output rose from 7,680,000 units in 1939 to 14,713,000 last year; and camel-back, which stepped in to keep civilian automobiles rolling by means of recapping rose from 54,411,000 pounds in 1939 to 359,711,000 pounds in the past year.

Thousands of tons of rubber have gone into armor, artillery, air and ground transport. Endless batteries of 75-mm. guns take 414 pounds for every carriage. Medium tanks account for another 840 pounds each in track treads, crash padding and other uses. Every fighter plane required 146 pounds of rubber to get it into the air, the report shows.

The really astronomical figures are reached in the field of rubber coated materials and rubber sundries. More than 360 million yards of fabrics have been coated since January 1944 and converted to military raincoats, ponchos, jungle hammocks, flotation gear and other items worth $150,000,000. While in the field of rubber sundries production has reached millions of units on surgical supplies, stoppies, gloves, plasma tubing, watertight instrument bags, oxygen masks and thousands of other items essential to the war effort.

Although supplies were tight and continue to be so, there has been actually almost continuous production of essential rubber items for homefront use. Many of these items were and still are available only on a priority basis, but the industry has been able to keep most passenger cars, trucks and buses on the road for vital war jobs and to meet minimum demands for conveyor belts, jar rings, garden hose, footwear and like products.

It was pointed out, however, that natural rubber areas in the Far East are still occupied for the most part and that army requirements continue at near record levels. Until supplies increase and essential military demand eases off, there can be no all-out production of rubber goods for civilian uses. In the meantime, 35-mile-an-hour victory speeds, prompt recapping of worn but still usable tires and careful attention to proper inflation remain the obligation of every driver, the report said.

CMH AWARDED POSTHUMOUSLY TO LIEUTENANT

Washington, Aug. 13 (AP)—Award of the Congressional Medal of Honor posthumously to a young army lieutenant who, though critically wounded, deliberately exposed himself to enemy fire so that his troops could advance, was announced today.

He was 2nd Lt. John E. Butts, 24, of Buffalo, N. Y., killed by a machine gun burst as he painfully dragged himself toward the German lines near Flottemanville Hague in Normandy, France, on June 23, 1944.

Earlier, on June 14 and 16, he had been wounded twice while leading his platoon near Orglandes, Normandy, and in crossing the Douve river.

Rallied His Men

In the attack at Flottemanville Hague against a heavily fortified hill laced with German antitank guns, machineguns and pillboxes, Butts' platoon wavered and started to fall back.

Butts called to his men and started forward. A machinegun burst caught him, but he raised himself up and rallied the men. Capt. Lloyd Tallent, Texarkana, Tex., Butts' company commander, who witnessed Butts' action in the ensuing minutes, related:

"He ordered a right flanking move and then moved ahead to draw the attention and fire of the enemy upon himself. He knew he was dying because of his severe stomach wound, but he dragged himself over the fire-swept ground toward the enemy. All the enemy were watching him.

Destroyed Nazi Positions

"While he advanced he was hit a second time and for a few minutes it looked as though he had been stopped. But regaining control of himself, although he appeared to be in great pain, he continued to crawl toward the waiting Germans. He was just 10 yards short of their lines when he was killed by a direct burst from a machinegun."

The enemy had been concentrating so much attention on Butts, however, that his platoon was able to work around the flank and eventually destroy the German positions.

Butts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Butts, of Buffalo, entered the army as a private in October, 1939, and received his commission late in 1942. His wife, Mrs. Anna Butts, lives with his parents.

State Police To Get 2-Way Radios

Harrisburg, Aug. 13 (AP)—State troopers manning 400 cruiser cars will be able to carry on two-way communication with their control stations just as soon as the wartime bottleneck in radio equipment is broken, Commissioner C. M. Wilhelm reported today.

The state police have the necessary top priorities now, Wilhelm said, but the equipment is not available.

The cars now have sets that receive only. Their crews can receive instructions, but they have no means of acknowledging receipt, or reporting back on the result of their mission, except by calling-in from the nearest telephone.

Wilhelm emphasized that the existing teletype network will remain the mainstay of the state police communication. It links the police headquarters in every county and connects with state and municipal police systems in neighboring states. "That gives you a permanent printed message, and you can get as many copies as you want," he pointed out.

Berliners Line Up For Water

Berliners stand in front of a water pump on a street, waiting to fill their pails during the last days before the fall of the German capital. There were lines at these pumps day and night during the last days of the city, since the only available water supply was the foul, unclean water from these wells.

FIND SIX BODIES IN PLANE CRASH

Worland, Wyo., Aug. 13 (AP)—At least six decomposed bodies scattered amidst the debris of a wrecked airplane—said by U. S. Forest Service to be an army ship—were found high on the slope of 13,165-foot Cloud peak in northwestern Wyoming Friday by two cowboys.

The region is so primitive that the discovery did not become known until today. The cowboys, Albert Kirkpatrick of Hyattville and Bert Bader of Ten Sleep, told Forest Ranger Ervin Massey the plane had crashed into the side of Cloud peak above Timberline, lacking only 50 feet of clearing the mountain.

The bodies were so badly mutilated that there may have been more than six, they said, and their state of decay indicated the crash occurred at least a year ago.

No Military Insignia

The cowboys believed the plane was an army craft, since what appeared to be a leather jacket was found on one of the bodies. They reported seeing no military insignia on the ship, however.

(At Sheridan, Wyo., U. S. Forest Service officials said the wreckage definitely was that of an army plane and added that they were unable to identify the bodies.)

A plane bearing members of the Second Air Force search section from Peterson Field, Colorado Springs, Colo., left today for the scene. The Public Relations office said it had not been definitely determined whether the wreckage was that of an army plane nor had the identities of the dead been established.

107 U. S. Trucks Open To Farmers

The Adams county war board announced today a sale to be held August 24 at the Reading fair grounds when about 107 government trucks of 1940 and later models will be sold to dealers for re-sale exclusively to farmers. Twenty-six of the trucks are pickups, 56 cargo trucks and 25 stake body vehicles.

The War Board will issue certificates for farmers to make purchases from dealers who buy the trucks at Reading. Harrison F. Snyder, county War Board chairman, said that W. Clayton Jester, field operations section chief for the state War Board office at Harrisburg, has investigated the trucks and described them as the "best lot yet offered by the government."

Dealers wishing to make purchases may register up to 8:30 a. m. the day of the sale at Reading.

Chairman Snyder said the trucks will meet only a fraction of the demand for trucks by farmers in this area.

Fish is the chief source of protein for the Japanese.

Flashes Of Life LIVERS' LANE?

New Haven, Conn. (AP)—The agenda of the board of aldermen called for action in the matter of Doris Anne Lane.

"Whose daughter is she; or is she a movie star?" queried Alderman James F. Fahy.

But a moment later he chuckled with the rest when Doris Anne Lane, 400 feet long and 45 feet wide, was officially accepted by the Aldermen as another New Haven city street.

"SIDELINE"

Kansas City, Mo., (AP)—It's really becoming confusing — this business of buying a bottle of whiskey in Missouri.

A law states that the dealer who sells you that quart of bourbon must carry at least $1,000 worth of wholly non-intoxicating stock, making the liquor a "sideline."

So yesterday a thirsty shopper in Kansas City found: One of his favorite drink shops with the customary stock of liquor, plus $1,000 worth of tooth paste; another with 800 pairs of button-top and other ration-free shoes, and nothing else but wines, whiskies and other liquors.

FREE COMPETITION

Richfield, Utah, (AP)—Richfield's state liquor store now has a "competitor" that knows no closing hours.

It's the city's new municipally-owned and operated drinking (water) fountain, installed yesterday on the sidewalk directly in front of the liquor shop.

BILLBOARD

Burlington, Ia., (AP)—In warm weather, Van Garrison, sports editor of the Burlington Hawk-Eye Gazette, attended church wearing his bowling shirt beneath his suit coat.

The Rev. Bruce Masselink invited the male portion of his congregation to remove their coats. They did so, including Garrison.

There, blazoned on his back, was the name of a nationally advertised beer.

Pa. School Health Program To Start

Harrisburg, Aug. 13 (AP)—Pennsylvania's new medical and dental health program for school children will get off to "a very favorable" start this fall in spite of a shortage of doctors and nurses, a Health Department official indicated today.

"We are going to give complete examinations wherever there is a doctor, a nurse and a place," declared J. W. Garman, Jr., chief of the department's school division. "It is just a question of how many physicians and dentists are going to be available."

The 1945 Legislature appropriated $4,000,000 for the program for the next two years after requiring complete tests for school children and personnel every two years, starting with the first grade. A complete health record of pupils will be kept at the Health Department while correction of any ailments uncovered will be encouraged.

Cancel Printing Of Ration Books

Washington, Aug. 13 (AP)—The OPA has halted printing of 187,000,000 new ration books for food, shoes and gasoline, it was learned today.

The stop order covers war ration book five for meats, fats, dairy products, canned foods and sugar, and a new "A" gasoline book. Both had been scheduled for distribution in December.

The order halts work on the books pending outcome of peace negotiations. If Japan quits the stop order will become permanent.

The action was taken, it was explained, because there are sufficient stamps in books now in use to carry through to about the first of the year. In the case of gasoline, rationing is expected to end within a week or two after V-J day. The other programs are expected to continue longer.

Robert Orton, owner, became sales-minded yesterday, after the "wheel" got out of control and crashed through a filling station wall. Sixteen year old Orton escaped with only a cut across his knuckles. . . . While the motorcycle came out of the crash with only a bent fender and broken headlight and mirror.

Robert says he's just "tired of the danged thing."

Amazing Discovery In A Hearing Aid

A big improvement has been made in a hearing aid now welcomed by thousands. It is a new hearing aid that does not require separate battery pack, battery wire, battery case or garment to bulge or weigh you down. So small it fits the palm of the hand. About one-half the weight and bulk of most hearing aids. The tone is natural, noiseless, clear and powerful. The makers of Beltone, Dept. 937, 847 Jackson Blvd., Chicago 7, Ill., are so proud of their achievement that they will gladly send free descriptive booklet and explain how you may get a full demonstration of this remarkable hearing device in your own home without risking a penny. Write them today.

Barbed wire was invented by Joseph Glidden in 1867.

15 AMERICANS SLAIN BY HUNS

Washington, Aug. 13 (AP)—Fifteen American soldiers, in full uniform, were executed by the Germans in Italy early last year in flagrant violation of the rules of warfare.

Disclosing this over the week-end, the army said the fate of the 13 enlisted men and two officers was discovered shortly after V-E Day when their bodies were found in a common grave near Genoa.

A few days after the execution, a German broadcast said that the raiding force had been "wiped out." Nothing more was heard of the men until their grave was found.

Since then, their bodies have been exhumed and taken to an American military cemetery. Several of the Germans responsible for the atrocity, already have been taken into custody and will be placed on trial soon.

The victims all were members of the Office of Strategic Service 2671st Special Reconnaissance Battalion based on Corsica.

—POSTPONING TRIPS UNTIL LESS CROWDED DAYS

Best of all...
buy more War Bonds,
to make Victory secure
—and to safeguard
your own future.

No year in history has made such heavy demands on U. S. transportation as 1945. That's why we say: avoid midsummer travel, if you can — it will be better in every way to plan your trips for less crowded days.

Better for the U. S. — because you'll be leaving more room for fighters returning from battle, or taking precious furloughs.

Better for US — because we at Greyhound want to give you the finest possible service, in spite of wartime conditions.

Better for YOU — because you'll be far more comfortable, more relaxed, if you'll travel when buses are not so crowded.

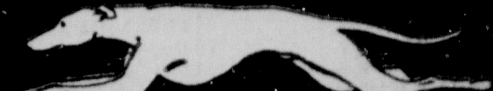

There will be more seats available this Fall or early Winter . . . and, whenever you go, it is wise to choose week days rather than week-ends. To get full information, call upon or phone your Greyhound agent before planning any trip.

Just Folks

SMILING SOLDIER

He was smiling when I saw him, and I wondered that he could, for 'twas plain his legs were new ones made of metal and of wood.

And he limped along the sidewalk, in each hand a heavy cane, just a soldier back from battle learning how to walk again.

It was very awkward walking and I'm certain painful, too.

But his eyes were bright with twinkles and his smile was good to view.

And I wondered as I passed him: were I crippled, as was he, if a smile as broad as that one, folks would ever see on me?

I've faced troubles rather badly and I've grumbled at the rain.

I've been quick to whine and whimper under every twinge of pain.

I've been bitter in resentment over losses, large or small.

And I marveled such a soldier could find pluck to smile at all.

Still, I see those bright eyes shining and that laughter on his lips.

And those legs he tried to manage strapped upon his thighs and hips!

And henceforth when I'm resentful of some blow that falls to me,

That smiling, plucky soldier I am certain I shall see.

Today's Talk

PRETENSE

One of the most envied persons with whom any of us may come in contact from day to day, or just occasionally, is that one who is his or her natural self, without frills, make-believe, or pretense of any kind.

It is so easy to trust and love such a person. The best that is in you is at once appealed to, and you don't feel as though you should make a single excuse about anything or offer a single explanation. You meet at once on solid, honest ground.

We never feel comfortable with a person whom we suspect, in some way or other, and who tries to make us believe that he or she is something else than the individual he or she is. Genuineness always presents superior value whether in a man or woman. It stands out. It can't be dressed up!

Life is like a big Chinese puzzle. Each one of us is an item—and we fit somewhere. If we find our place, we take our happiness and feel comfortable toward our fellow beings and toward the world. And there is something that we ought to bear in mind—unless we find our place, it becomes just that much more difficult for others to find theirs. Wars even come about in this manner, nations trying to fit their ideologies where they don't fit.

None of us can ever be something that we are not, no matter how much pretense we wrap around our attempts. We can only rise, grow, and become dominant, by being what we are to the fullest extent of our ability—and who knows the limits of his possibilities?

There are those who think themselves superior, but there is only one way to be superior, and that is to live and act that way, in such a manner as to attract those about you to gain from your example and to emulate your best qualities. That race is superior which does the most to knit the whole world together in mutual accord and cooperative efforts toward a common happiness.

There is no nation, and there never will be one, so superior as to dominate the world, in a physical sense, but it is possible for one nation to dominate with its moral qualities and its spiritual ideals.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Nature Takes Time."

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

The celebrated Mammoth Circus company will visit Gettysburg on the Wednesday (August 27th) of the Court. It is said to be the largest and most skillful company that have traversed the country.

Loco Foco Ticket: Our locofoco brethren met at the court house in this place on Monday, and settled upon a ticket to be beaten at the fall election. The following persons compose it:

Assembly—Jacob Marks.
Commissioner—John Felty.
Auditor—Jacob Raffensberger.
Director of the Poor—Peter Miller.
Coroner—Dr. Wm. P. Bell.

For the other offices the field was left open to volunteers, in the faint but fruitless hope to break in upon the Whig phalanx.

Gettysburg Troop! You will parade at the house of Isaac Yount, in Menallen township, on Saturday, the 16th inst., at 10 o'clock a. m.

J. P. Felty, O.S.

Gross Outrage: About two years ago Mrs. Maddocks, removing to Franklin county from Maryland, had in her possession a negro woman and her children who had been bequeathed to her by her deceased husband. Shortly after her removal, she executed a deed of manumission, giving liberty to the whole family. At her death, the individual to whom the property of her deceased husband reverted, it appears, laid a claim to the slaves whom she had manumitted; and taking advantage of their defenceless condition, he, aided by a party of reckless citizens from an adjoining county in Maryland, and we are told, from Franklin county, two weeks since, in the dead of night placed the mother and children in a covered wagon and took them to Maryland.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Post Office Salary: In the recent adjustment of the salaries of postmasters, the Gettysburg post office is fixed at $1,700.

Select Pic-Nic: On Monday last a pleasant little Fishing Party and Pic-Nic came off at Gitt's dam, near New Oxford. A few gentlemen from town took the five o'clock train for Conowingo, where they were joined by a party of gentlemen from New Oxford, to whom complimentary invitations had been sent. The morning was spent in testing the fishing grounds, after which the party sat down to a magnificent collation, on the banks of the stream, served up by Lieut. James Hersh, of the "Washington House," of New Oxford, whose merits as a caterer are so well known. The party returned to Gettysburg in the noon train. The affair, we understand, was gotten up under the superintendence of Mr. Keller Kurtz, of New York, temporarily on a visit to this place.

Married: Huff-Stern — On the 7th inst., by the Rev. E. Breidenbaugh, Mr. John M. Huff, of near Littlestown, to Miss Louisa C. Sterner, of Gettysburg.

Removed: Rev. G. W. McMillan, formerly of this place, has removed for the present to New Chicago, Neosho county, Kansas, where he expects to organize and build up a Presbyterian charge. The town was laid out only two months ago, and already contains about 500 inhabitants, furnishing another illustration of the rapidity with which towns spring up in the far west.

Marshal: Col. John Wolford, of Latimore township, has been appointed Chief Marshal for the next County Fair, with power to appoint his assistants.

Mrs. Abraham Lincoln writes from Germany to James H. Orne, Esq., of Philadelphia, in grateful acknowledgment of the action of the American Congress in voting her pension of three thousand dollars a year.

Democratic County Convention: On Monday the Democratic County convention met in the court house, to nominate a county ticket. Hon. Robert McCurdy was appointed president; Messrs. Samuel March and George Stonestifer, vice presidents; and Messrs. R. Sherfy and Joseph Wolf, secretaries.

Messrs. E. Shorb, Henry J. Myers, and Wm. Ross White were appointed Congressional Conferees, with instructions to support the Hon. William McSherry.

From Europe: We have the startling announcement that the Prince Imperial has arrived in London and brings with him the jewels of the Empress and also the valuable Brunswick collection. The fact of the flight of the Prince Imperial has been kept a secret from the people of Paris.

General News: The acting French Consul in Richmond has had so many applications from ex-Confederates who desire to enter the French army that he has been compelled to announce through the public press that he has no authority to accept their propositions.

A number of French Protestants, resident in New York city, held a meeting on Monday and adopted resolutions expressive of their opposition to the war.

ATOMIC BOMB ROBS WAR OF GLAMOR TRACE

By HAL BOYLE

En route to General MacArthur's Hdqrs (AP) — The atomic bomb has taken any remaining King Arthur glamor out of war.

The sport of kings has been removed from the battlefield to the laboratory, and the result is at last the perfect weapon — one to make even the most hardened soldier shudder in his blanket.

It reduces war finally to its ultimate horror, where whole populations instead of armies are subjected to injury and flaming death.

There have been many people during the long history of the human race to defend certain virtues of war, among them America's own tough campaigner in two world struggles, Gen. George ("Old Blood and Guts") Patton, commander of the Third Army.

Was Adventure-Filled

War, these defenders have said, teaches men discipline, manhood and fortitude. It crowns the brave man with honor and glory and exposes and defames the coward. It enables progressive and powerful peoples to defend their place in the sun and extend through conquest the "sweetness and light" of their civilization to less happily endowed and backward nations.

It solidifies national sentiment, unifies a people in time of threat of common disaster as can no other emergency, and the crucible of battle forces them to forge the needs to guarantee their own survival. It hastens invention. And, of course, it has many times brought forth new and stirring leaders.

War, the Bible says, began with one brother clubbing another brother's brains out, and the merry game has gone on ever since. For centuries there no doubt was considerable personal adventure in man stalking man with club, spear or bow and arrow. Particularly if you won the battle and could help yourself to your defunct neighbor's home, fortune and wife — if she was pretty enough to keep.

Mass Extinction

The day of the champions — Achilles, Hector, Horatius, Galahad, Lancelot — passed into history with the evolution of the pistol, the tank, the submarine, the fighter plane. A good little man became the equal of the good big man. Perhaps the superior — for he took up less space, ate less and made a smaller target.

Now comes the atomic bomb, logical sequel to the bombing plane, science's first great weapon against the civilian industrial populace in a modified form of war in which there is no front line and no rear line, and the enemy's whole country is the battleground.

Man to Mist

It will be easy to refine it so that it needs no personal escort. The Nazis gave us such vehicles in the buzz bomb and the rocket. War has become a matter of mass extermination to be controlled by the pressure of buttons.

Of what avail is the courage of the soldier in the trench? The abstinence of civilians who work and do without to furnish him with outdated weapons? Who will duel with whom and with what? What place will either rivalry or valor have in future battlefields—if there are any. The soldier will be as helpless as the child. You go forth against the atomic bomb a man and return a mist.

Such a weapon makes any real soldier yearn for "the good old days" of machine guns and innocent flame-throwers. For the atomic bomb has written either the obituary of wars—or the obituary of that other gift of education which unharnessed the atom, civilization.

VET WHO LOST LEGS AND ARMS GIVEN $60,000

Battle Creek, Mich., Aug. 13 (AP)—A grateful nation yesterday showered more than $60,000 on Master Sergeant Frederick Hensel, only American soldier to lose both arms and legs in action in this war.

The money, representing for the most part donations from people in Michigan, Illinois and the Sergeant's home state of Kentucky, was presented to Sgt. Hensel at the Percy Jones General hospital, where he has been a patient for five weeks.

It highlighted the sergeant's observance of his third wedding anniversary and meant a realization of his ambition to own a chicken farm when he is released from the army.

It really was a gala occasion for the plucky 27-year-old Kentucky GI, for it included his first wheel chair ride through the hospital grounds. It marked the first time he had been out of bed since he was wounded on Okinawa in June.

Hensel, who faces the necessity of four operations and about a year and a half more of hospitalization, was quite abashed as he and Mrs. Hensel received the gifts.

"Gee, this is swell, honey," was the Sergeant's lone comment to his wife as the anniversary presents were listed.

Striking Miners Get Draft Notices

St. Mary's Pa., Aug. 13 (AP)—Orders to report to the draft board here next Thursday were sent to 30 of the 350 Force, Pa., miners who laid down their picks at the Shawmut Mining Co., July 16 in a fight for a doctor and better sanitary conditions, board chairman John A. Kuntz reported.

The men lost their deferments, Kuntz said, when the company granted their releases.

The date set for induction precedes by 24 hours a projected meeting between the company officials and the miners, who quit work after Dr. Elizabeth Hayes resigned as company doctor because of what she termed "intolerable" sanitary conditions in the community.

"Perfect timing," Dr. Hayes commented when informed of the action.

FLIERS LIKE 'HOT SECTORS' FOR PATROLLING

By ROBBIN COONS

Two Jims (AP)—Crews of fleet air search planes prefer to fly the "hot sectors" along and sometimes over Japan. The most unpopular duty is "ASP"—anti-submarine patrol—but almost equally disliked is the "Whitecap special," or remote patrol areas where the men see the sea and little else.

Planes of the wing, besides aiding in air sea rescue and in fleet strikes, are out day after day.

Each crewman can count on a trip every second or third day, or about 90 flying hours monthly. There is daily reconnaissance of all "neutralized" enemy islands to keep them that way, and there is constant strafing and bombing of enemy shipping and coastal installations. The damage inflicted, sometimes small in the daily summaries, mounts up in the large picture.

Lined Up For Kill

Lt. Cmdr. R. C. "Buzz" Lefever of Ventura, Calif., a squadron commander, goes out on three successive missions, for instance, and bags six small cargo ships, six fishing craft, and three patrol boats. That's not spectacular, like hitting a warship, but it's big and it's helping to strangle Japan—especially when a whole wing of search planes is working at it.

Lt. (jg) Elmer Moore of San Antonio, Tex., goes out with his crew in a Privateer and about three miles off Honshu they spot three Japanese ships, lined up neatly for a kill. The way the first one explodes they know the cargo is gasoline or ammunition, and the other two blow up just as satisfactorily. Moore, who enlisted six years ago and was shot down over Spain to be interned a year before coming to the Pacific, brought his plane to base full of holes from flying debris but otherwise safe.

Weekly Adams County GARDEN Page

VIOLAS GIVE GAY TOUCH TO ROCK GARDENS, EDGES

The violas are gay little flowers for the herbaceous borders, rose beds, rock garden and for planting among spring bulbs, says Gisela Grimm in the New York Herald Tribune. Although they do not all have as large blooms as those of their cousin, the pansy, they are more resistant to heat and drought, and if cared for properly, will bloom continuously from earliest spring until frost.

The variety Jersey Gem introduced in 1924, was the first of the modern improved strain of violas. It is doubtful that it has even now been surpassed by any other viola for general dependability. The wavy petals are of rich dark violet color. The flowers are delicately fragrant and are borne in utmost profusion all season on plants of dwarf, compact habit.

Some other dependable violas are Catherine Sharp (light blue), lutea splendens (yellow), Chantreyland (apricot), Arkwright Ruby (ruby red with terra cotta shadings) and White Perfection (white). Viola Purple Heart is the latest introduction. The blooms are deep velvety violet with yellow eye, and are almost of pansy size.

Succeed Best in Rich Soil

Violas, although giving good results in any ordinary soil, succeed best in a soil well enriched with rotted manure or leafmold. A dressing of bone meal dug into the soil around the plants in the fall is beneficial. The bed should be deeply dug, for although the viola is a shallow feeder, it must be assured plenty of moisture during the summer. A little shade during the hottest part of the day will be appreciated. This is especially true in the case of the larger flowering kinds.

Plants may be set in the garden in early fall or spring, spacing them about eight inches apart for a sheet of color, or interspersed with other low plants. It is most important to keep violas free from choking weeds and more rampant flowers.

In July the long, straggling growths should be cut back gradually. Plants are often killed by being cut back too rapidly in summer, before the new shoots from the base have begun to show. It is important to keep the faded flowers cut off at all times, for if allowed to seed bloom will be sparse.

Can Be Divided in September

The easiest and best way for the amateur to increase his stock of violas is by division, preferably in September. The young plants then have a chance to become established before winter. Cut away the long shoots, take up the plant, shake or wash the soil from the roots and pull it apart. One clump should yield a number of small plants which should bloom freely the next season. These may be set out in their permanent locations at once, and if lightly protected with some dry material as salt hay or straw, they will come through the winter nicely. One should never use maple leaves or those of other soft wood trees, as they become wet and rot out the crowns of the plants.

Violas may also be propagated by cuttings, although this method is more difficult to accomplish.

Violas may be easily raised from seed, although it must not be expected that the seedlings will always closely resemble the parent form. The seed may be sown in seed pans or boxes or directly into the cold frame. Use a light, sandy soil and cover the seed lightly. This is best done in August, and the plants wintered in the cold frame. If one has a greenhouse seed may be sown in February.

Elm Leaf Beetles Are Numerous

Dead and dying leaves falling from elm trees over the last three weeks are likely proof that the elm leaf beetle is present or has been active. Inspection of these lost leaves reveals holes eaten through them at random and the under side almost completely skeletonized away. The urgency for exterminating this dangerous pest cannot be fully appreciated unless its disastrous ravages are properly diagnosed.

Like all other plants, an elm tree builds its twigs, limbs, trunk, roots and all its various parts from materials compounded in the leaves. In fact, the leaf is a complete laboratory, a marvelous factory. And unless a tree grows a full crop of leaves and retains them in vigor throughout the summer and early fall, the tree's health will be proportionately impaired. If elm trees lose their leaves or suffer severe damages two or three years in succession, they will either die or be seriously weakened that most of the larger limbs will die.

Spraying Is Difficult

Elm leaf beetles live over winter in adult beetle form. These insects measure about one-fourth inch in length when fully grown and are buff in color, with an olive-green stripe on their outer wing covers. They feed on elm leaves as soon as the buds open. In late May the female beetles lay their yellowish eggs on the under sides of the leaves, these placed oddly on end. The eggs hatch in a few days into small larvae which begin feeding at once, skeletonizing the leaves on the under sides. They are yellowish-black in color.

Many elm tree owners report that the adult beetles often hibernate in winter in attics, belfries and other shelters. There may be two full broods in this latitude, the second generation of larvae appearing in July and causing the most serious defoliation of elms.

Control is difficult for two reasons: (1) All owners of elm trees must join in a concerted spraying campaign, when the beetles are feeding, again when the larvae are active; (2) Large trees are not easily

Surrender Offer Kept From People

San Francisco, Aug. 13 (AP) — Still withholding from the Japanese people the knowledge their self-sought war was lost, the Japanese Domei News agency today reported new fears of an American invasion of the home land.

Domei, in a broadcast monitored by The Associated Press quoted Nipponese "military observers" as viewing the renewed American carrier plane attacks and fleet operations off the coast might mean "a possible enemy landing on the Japanese mainland in the near future."

Today's Japanese newspapers and radio broadcasts all stayed strictly away from mention of surrender. But all stressed the need for "unswerving loyalty" to the throne and cautioned the population to "wait for the great command from the throne." They gave no hint of what the command might be.

The Hawaiian islands were formerly known as the Sandwich islands.

Miami victory-hailers hopped on automobile running boards and rocked the vehicles until police and fire units arrived; then scores of them rode off on departing fire engines.

Turbulent crowds in Halifax, N. S., sought to storm the same liquor store which was looted in the riotous observance of V-E Day. Police reserves checked them with difficulty.

Times Square Jammed

Children burned fences for bonfires in one section of Pittsburgh.

Celebrators, estimated at 100,000 in number, marked the event in Sydney, Australia, by swarming through Martin Place to uproot a memorial tree, upset several news stands and tip over a water fountain.

Firemen were mobbed, their engine sirens and headlamps smashed.

New York's Times Square was jammed by thousands who cheered obligingly for photographers as they awaited confirmation of the surrender news. In New York's Chinatown, as in the Chinatowns of San Francisco, San Diego, Toronto and Montreal, kindred of the people first attacked by Japan joyfully hailed her apparent downfall.

Chapter 12

They were gone. Jane and Mark Sheridan listened to the sharp clack-clack of Carla's heels, the soft swish of Haskins' footsteps; then the outer door closed.

"If you don't mind," said Jane, and hurried after them. Yes, the night latch was off. She replaced it, went to another door and whistled, and was rewarded by seeing Evelyn hurry toward her.

They went into Mark Sheridan's office. He was still standing, his face contorted into a queer sort of grin.

"Sit down," suggested Jane, and laughed. "You're perfectly safe; there are two of us. You need protection, you know."

Sheridan sat down heavily and grimaced with pain. "I even forgot the foot," he remarked, and then he seemed to recover. "Would you mind telling me what's happened? How you happen to be here—and the meaning of that record there?"

Jane told him what she felt he should know, then waited while he shook his head.

"Won't work. You can't fire Miss—Miss Hansen. Board likes her."

"Want to bet?" asked Jane. "Because from now on they're going to be afraid to like her. What would certain members of your board think if we brought them a witness who had overheard Carla and Mr. Haskins planning the shabbiest kind of a trap for you? Even if they were in on it, they'd be afraid to admit it, wouldn't they?"

"It's an idea," he conceded, eyeing the record.

"It was blackmail, you know," Jane prompted, and was rewarded by the first free smile she'd ever seen on Mark Sheridan's face.

He looked at Evelyn. "You have some work to do outside?" he asked. "I don't want to rush you out, but there are questions I want to ask Miss—Miss—"

"Grey," sighed Evelyn, and went out to turn on a light and sit on a desk swinging her heels.

"Now"—Sheridan swung to Jane—"what do you want out of this?"

"A good job," Jane answered promptly.

"I see. Then, instead of protecting me in this farce, you were trying to get rid of Carla so you could have her job?"

"I said a good job; a position. Mr. Sheridan, with a future to it. Wait; let me give you my background. You can check on it by wire or letter. Perhaps then you'll understand."

She talked earnestly for a few moments, and he listened, his attention riveted upon her words.

"I realize few women know about metals, their use, their purchase, their component parts, how they are used, into what they go, the marketing—"

And—"I have been, literally, in charge of the maintenance department of one of the largest foundries in the country. I realize, perhaps as well as you, what you are going to be up against when you're ready for future supplies."

She talked earnestly for a few moments, and he listened, his attention riveted upon her words.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Aug. 13 (AP)—A state police manhunt was being conducted today for the murderer of William Frey, 44, of Wilkes-Barre, whose body was found Saturday night with a .32 calibre bullet hole in the chest.

Detective Kenneth Tissue of the state police said Frey died of an internal hemorrhage and extreme bleeding of the mouth. The body was discovered by Pfc. and Mrs. Herbert Brown, also of Wilkes-Barre.

DETROIT GAINS FULL GAME BY WINNING PAIR

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jim Tobin, veteran hurler who traveled the waiver route from Boston to Detroit—switching from the National league to the American—may be a vital cog in the Tigers' bid for the junior major league pennant which they won in 1940 and nearly won last year.

Tobin, making his American league debut yesterday before 53,189 paid—the second largest Detroit crowd of the season—pitched and batted to triumph in one game of a twin Tiger defeat of the New York Yankees, 9-6 and 8-2.

Hal Newhouser's six-hit effort in the finale brought the ace left-hander his 18th triumph of the year. Hank Greenberg starred at bat for the Bengals. His five hits, including a double and triple, accounted for six runs in the two games.

Senators Divide

The Senators won the opener from the St. Louis Browns 9-5 to keep pace with the Tigers, but dropped back when the American league champions, behind Bob Munier, annexed the second contest, 4-1.

The Chicago Cubs stretched their first place National league lead to 6½ games via a double win over the lowly Phillies, 4-3 and 12-6.

After losing second place to Brooklyn by virtue of the Dodgers' 7-3 opening game victory, the St. Louis Cardinals came back to win the second game 3-0 and regain their hold on the runner-up position. A near capacity crowd of 33,042 Ebberly's field patrons saw Ken Burkhardt scatter four Dodgers hits in the finale.

Manager Mel Ott provided a one-man show against the Cincinnati Reds at the Polo grounds.

His opening game round tripper gave the Giants a 3-2 edge while in the nightcap, he walloped a pinch-hit three-run four bagger to put his team out in front 6-5. Van Mungo gained his 12th triumph in the first game, while Ace Adams, making his 50th appearance, won his ninth in the second.

First Sunday Setback

Jesse Flores pitched the Philadelphia Athletics to a 7-0 win over Chicago to hand the White Sox their first home Sunday loss this season after 17 consecutive successes. The Sox, however, came back to win the second 5-3 behind Johnny Humphries' effective pitching.

Dave Ferriss notched his 19th victory, tops in the majors, as Boston's Red Sox and Cleveland split. Ferriss won the opener 7-1, but the Indians, with Pete Center registering his sixth straight win without a defeat, won the afterpiece 8-2.

Preacher Roe hurled a 3-0 shut-out for Pittsburgh as the Pirates and Braves divided a twin bill. Boston won the opener 7-6 in a game which saw both starting pitchers knocked out in the first inning when a total of 10 runs were scored by both teams.

Post-War Boom On In Racing

New York, Aug. 13 (AP)—As far as racing is concerned, the heralded post-war sports boom already is in full swing.

The long-awaited $4,000,000 betting day became a reality Saturday at the Saratoga-at-Belmont meeting when 44,125 race-goers wagered a world record sum of $4,035,465 on the eight-race card. The old mark of $3,951,227 was established by 43,701 fans at Belmont last June 9.

The tremendous cash outpourings of equine followers at Garden State Park, Suffolk Downs and Washington Park where the handles soared way over the million dollar mark, overshadowed an action-crammed week-end racing program which saw a near-riot at the Boston track over the disqualification of a favorite, two sharp upsets at Belmont and Washington Park, and the continued success of two leading juveniles—Beaugay and Air Hero.

At Garden State 27,254 horse players set a new track standard by wagering $2,115,537.
